Gunman in Bondi attack charged with 59 offences

Families gathered in Sydney as funerals began for the victims of the Beach massacre

SYDNEY

ONE of the gunmen in Sydney's Bondi Beach massacre was charged with 59 offenses including 15 charges of murder on Wednesday, as hundreds of mourners gathered in Sydney to begin funerals for the victims.

Two shooters slaughtered 15 people on Sunday in an antisemitic mass shooting targeting Jews celebrating Hanukkah at Bondi Beach, and more than 20 other people are still being treated in hospitals. All of those killed by the gunmen who have been identified so far were Jewish. As investigations unfold, Australia faces a social and political reckoning about antisemitism, gun control and whether police protections for Jews at events such as Sunday's were sufficient for the threats they faced.

Naveed Akram, the 24-year-old alleged shooter, was charged on Wednesday after waking from a coma in a Sydney hospital, where he has been since police shot him and his father at Bondi. His father Sajid Akram, 50, died at the scene. The charges include one count of murder for each fatality and one count of committing a terrorist act, police said. Akram was also charged with 40 counts of causing harm with intent to murder in relation to the wounded and with placing an explosive near a building with intent to cause harm. Police said the Akrams' car, which was found at the crime scene, contained improvised explosive devices.

Naveed Akram

Akram's lawyer did not enter pleas and did not request his client's release on bail during a video court appearance from his hospital bed, a court statement said. Akram is being represented by Legal Aid NSW, which has a policy of refusing media comment on behalf of clients. He is expected to remain under police guard in hospital until he is well enough to be transferred to a prison.

Families from Sydney's close-knit Jewish community gathered, one after another, to begin to bury their dead.

The victims of the attack ranged in age from a 10-year-old girl to an 87-year-old Holocaust survivor. Jews are usually buried within 24 hours from their deaths, but funerals have been delayed by coroner's investigations.

The first farewelled was Eli Schlanger, 41, a husband and father of five who served as the assistant rabbi at Chabad-Lubavitch of Bondi. AP

Trump expands travel ban and restrictions to 20 more nations

NEW YORK

THE Trump administration has expanded its travel ban and restrictions to 20 additional nations as well as the Palestinian Authority as part of its efforts to "protect US national security and public safety interests".

Donald Trump signed a proclamation on Tuesday expanding and strengthening entry restrictions on nationals from countries with 'demonstrated, persistent, and severe deficiencies' in screening, vetting, and information-sharing to protect America from national security and public safety threats.

The proclamation said these measures are necessary to prevent the entry of foreign nationals about whom the US "lacks sufficient information to assess the risks they pose, garner cooperation from foreign governments, enforce our immigration laws, and advance other important foreign policy, national security, and counterterrorism objectives."

It imposed partial restrictions and entry limitations on 15 additional countries - Angola, Antigua and Barbuda, Benin, Cote d'Ivoire, Dominica, Gabon, The Gambia, Malawi, Mauritania, Nigeria, Senegal, Tanzania, Tonga, Zambia, and Zimbabwe. Full entry restrictions were also imposed on nationals of Burkina Faso, Mali, Niger. PTI

Putin rejects compromise on Ukraine

MOSCOW

RUSSIAN President Vladimir Putin warned on Wednesday that Moscow will seek to extend its gains in Ukraine if Kyiv and its Western allies reject the Kremlin's demands in peace talks.

US President Donald Trump has unleashed an extensive diplomatic push to end nearly four years of fighting following Russia's full-scale invasion of Ukraine in February 2022, but Washington's efforts have run into sharply conflicting demands by Moscow and Kyiv.

Speaking at an annual meeting with top military officers, Putin said Moscow would prefer to achieve its goals and "eliminate the root causes of the conflict" by diplomatic means, but he added that "if the opposing side and its foreign patrons refuse to engage in substantive dialogue, Russia will achieve the liberation of its historical lands by military means."

> Moscow would prefer to eliminate the root causes of the conflict by diplomatic means but if they refuse to engage in substantive dialogue, we will achieve liberation of its historical lands by military means
> Vladimir Putin, Russian President

Ukraine and its Western allies regards Russia's actions as a violation of its sovereignty and an unprovoked act of aggression. Putin claimed that "the Russian army has seized and is firmly holding strategic initiative all along the front line" and warned that Moscow will move to expand a "buffer security zone" alongside the Russian border. "Our troops are different now, they are battle-hardened and there is no other such army in the world now," he said.

Putin praised Russia's growing military might and noted the modernization of its atomic arsenal, including the new nuclear-capable intermediate range Oreshnik ballistic missile. AP

EU to tap frozen Russian assets to fund Ukraine

BRUSSELS

EUROPEAN Union leaders are about to attempt something they've never tried before. The chances of failure are significant. Their actions this week could set dangerous precedents and a wrong move could undermine trust among the bloc's 27 member countries for years to come. At a summit starting on Thursday, many of the leaders will press for tens of billions of euros in frozen Russian assets held in Europe to be used to meet Ukraine's economic and military needs for the next two years. Ukraine is on the verge of bankruptcy. The International Monetary Fund estimates that it will require a total of 137 billion euros ($160 billion) in 2026 and 2027. It must get the money by spring. The EU has pledged to come up with the funds, one way or another.

"One thing is very, very clear," European Commission President Ursula von der Leyen told EU lawmakers on Wednesday. "We have to take the decision to fund Ukraine for the next two years in this European Council." European Council President António Costa, who will chair the summit, has vowed to keep the leaders negotiating until an agreement is reached, even if it takes days. AP

Report flags China tapping US nuke data to aid military

WASHINGTON

CHINA is exploiting partnerships with US researchers funded by the Department of Energy to provide the Chinese military with access to sensitive nuclear technology and other innovations with economic and national security applications, according to a congressional report published on Wednesday.

The authors of the report say the US must do more to protect high-tech research and ensure that the results of taxpayer-funded work don't end up benefiting Beijing. They recommended several changes to better protect scientific research in the US, including new policies for the Department of Energy to use when deciding whether to fund work that involves Chinese partnerships.

The investigation is part of a congressional push to raise a firewall blocking US research from boosting China's military buildup when the two countries are locked in a tech and arms rivalry that will shape the future global order. AP
